Item 2 Material Changes

Since our last annual brochure, dated March 28, 2022, the following change was made:

Item 12.

In certain circumstances, WE LLC will allow clients to select the broker-dealer to execute transactions. In this case, each Client selects a broker-dealer based on factors important to them. Clients will negotiate the terms and arrangements with their broker-dealer of choice, and transactions are directed to the specified broker-dealer. WE LLC will not be in a position to seek better execution services or prices from other broker-dealers. By directing brokerage, WE LLC may not be able to achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions, and this practice may cost clients more money.

We will provide a new Brochure as necessary based on changes or new information, at any time, without charge. This Disclosure Brochure may be requested by calling the main number above.

Additional information about Wealth Engagement is also available via the SEC's website <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/>. Item 4 Advisory Business Wealth Engagement LLC is a registered investment advisory firm registered with the Georgia securities regulators.

The principal owner of Wealth Engagement LLC is Tiffany S. Kent, Managing Partner.

Advisory Services

Wealth Engagement LLC's ("WE LLC" or "Advisor") principal service is providing fee-based investment advisory services. The Advisor practices custom management of portfolios, on a discretionary basis, according to the Client's objectives. The Advisor's primary approach is to use a tactical allocation strategy aimed at reducing risk and increasing performance. The Advisor may use exchange-listed securities, municipal securities, mutual funds, and ETFs to accomplish this objective. On occasion, the Advisor may recommend redistributing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio in an effort to reduce risk and increase performance. The Advisor may recommend specific stocks to increase sector weighting and/or dividend potential. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement, which may adversely affect the portfolio performance. The Advisor may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position(s) in the portfolio, changes in risk tolerance of the Client, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client's risk tolerance.

WE LLC will tailor its advisory services to its Client's individual needs based on meetings and conversations with the Client. If clients wish to impose certain restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities, the Advisor will address those restrictions with the Client to have a clear understanding of the Client's requirements.

ERISA and Individual Retirement Accounts Disclosure

When we provide investment advice to you regarding your retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act and/or the Internal Revenue Code, as applicable, which are laws governing retirement accounts. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests, so we operate under a special rule that requires us to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours.

Under this special rule's provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations (give prudent advice);
- Never put our financial interests ahead of yours when making recommendations (give loyal advice);
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in your best interest;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give you basic information about conflicts of interest.

WE LLC does not provide portfolio management services to wrap fee programs.

As of March 29, 2023, Wealth Engagement manages $33,759,738 in assets on a discretionary basis.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

According to the investment advisory contract signed by each Client, the Client will pay WE LLC an annual management fee quarterly, in arrears, based on either the average daily value of portfolio assets of the account or on the last business day of the preceding quarter depending on which Custodian holds the Client's assets. Based on the Custodian's billing process, assets received in the middle of the billing period will be pro-rated and billed at the end of the quarter.

The maximum management fee is 1.25%, which may be negotiated at the sole discretion of the Advisor. Asset management fees will be directly deducted from the client account quarterly by the qualified Custodian. The Client will give written authorization permitting the Advisor to be paid directly from their account held by the Custodian. The Custodian will send a statement at least quarterly to the Client.

For each of the Advisor's services described above, the Client may terminate these services within five business days of the effective date of an Agreement signed with the Advisor without any Advisor's fee.

All fees paid to WE LLC for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's or variable product's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses.

At no time will WE LLC accept or maintain custody of a client's funds or securities except for authorized fee deduction. The Client is responsible for all custodial and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian and executing broker-dealer. The Advisors fee is separate and distinct from the custodian and execution fees.

Neither WE LLC nor its supervised persons accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products, including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

WE LLC does not charge performance-based fees.

Item 7 Types of Clients

The Advisor will offer its services to individuals, small businesses, and charitable organizations.

The Advisor's cumulative minimum account requirement for opening and maintaining an account is $500,000. However, the Advisor may accept accounts with a lower value at its sole discretion.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

The Advisor utilizes fundamental and cyclical analysis techniques in formulating investment advice or managing assets for clients.

Fundamental analysis of businesses involves analyzing their financial statements and health, management and competitive advantages, and competitors and markets. Fundamental analysis is performed on historical and present data to make financial forecasts. There are several possible objectives; to conduct a company stock valuation and predict its probable price evolution; to make a projection on its business performance; to evaluate its management and make internal business decisions; and to calculate its credit risk.

Cyclical analysis of economic cycles is used to determine how these cycles affect the returns of an investment, an asset class, or an individual company's profits. Cyclical risks exist because the broad economy has been shown to move in cycles, from periods of peak performance followed by a downturn, then a trough of low activity. Between the peak and trough of a business or other economic cycle, investments may fall in value to reflect the uncertainty surrounding future returns compared with the recent past.

The investment strategies the Advisor will implement may include long-term purchases of securities held at least for one year, short-term purchases for securities sold within a year, and trading of securities sold within 30 days.

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients need to be prepared to bear.

The methods of analysis and investment strategies followed by the Advisor are utilized across all of the Advisor's clients, as applicable. One method of analysis or investment strategy is not more significant than the other as the Advisor is considering the Client's portfolio, risk tolerance, time horizon, and individual goals. However, the Client should be aware that with any trading that occurs in the client account, the Client will incur transaction and administrative costs.

Investing includes the risk that the value of an investment can be negatively affected by factors specifically related to the investment (e.g., capability of management, competition, new inventions by other companies, lawsuits against the company, labor issues, patent expiration, etc.), or to factors related to investing and the markets in general (e.g., the economy, wars, civil unrest or terrorism around the world, concern about oil prices or unemployment, etc.).

Risks of fundamental analysis may include risks that market actions, natural disasters, government actions, world political events, or other events not directly related to the price or valuation of a specific company's fundamental analysis can adversely impact the stock price of a company causing a portfolio containing that security to lose value. Risks may also include that the historical data and projections on which the fundamental analysis is performed may not continue to be relevant to the operations of a company going forward, or that management changes or the business direction of management of the company may not permit the company to continue to produce metrics that are consistent with the prior company data utilized in the fundamental analysis, which may negatively affect the Advisor's estimate of the valuation of the company.

The primary risks in technical analysis are that the factors used to analyze the price, trends, and volatility of a security may not be replicated, or the outcomes of such analysis will not be the same as in past periods where similar combinations existed. Because of the reliance on trends, technical analysis can signal buying at market peaks and selling at market troughs.

The Advisor does not primarily recommend a particular type of security. However, clients are advised that many unexpected broad environmental factors can negatively impact the value of portfolio securities, causing the loss of some or all of the investment, including changes in interest rates, political events, natural disasters, and acts of war or terrorism. Further, factors relevant to specific securities may have negative effects on their value, such as competition or government regulation. Also, the factors for which the company was selected for inclusion in a client portfolio may change, for example, due to changes in management, new product introductions, or lawsuits.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

There are no legal or disciplinary events to report concerning either WE LLC or its management.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither WE LLC nor any of its management persons are registered or have an application pending to register as a broker-dealer or a registered representative of a broker-dealer.

Neither WE LLC nor any of its management persons are registered or have an application pending to register as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or an associated person of the foregoing entities.

WE LLC does not currently have any relationships or arrangements that are material to its advisory business or clients with either a broker-dealer, municipal securities dealer, or government securities dealer or broker, investment company, or other pooled investment vehicle (including a mutual fund, closed-end investment company, unit investment trust, private investment company or "hedge fund" and offshore fund), other investment advisor or financial planner, futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor, banking or thrift institution, accountant or accounting firm, lawyer or law Firm, insurance company or agency, pension consultant, real estate broker or dealer or sponsor or syndicator of limited partnerships.

WE LLC does not recommend or select other investment advisers for clients.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

WE LLC is registering as a state registered investment advisor registered with the Georgia securities regulators and has adopted as an industry best practice a Code of Ethics that sets forth the basic policies of ethical conduct for all managers, officers, and employees of the adviser. In addition, the Code of Ethics governs personal trading by each employee of WE LLC deemed to be an Access Person and is intended to ensure that securities transactions effected by Access Persons of WE LLC are conducted in a manner that avoids any conflict of interest between such persons and clients of the adviser or its affiliates. WE LLC collects and maintains records of securities holdings and securities transactions effected by Access Persons. These records are reviewed to identify and resolve conflicts of interest. WE LLC will provide a copy of the Code of Ethics to any client or prospective Client upon request.

WE LLC and its investment advisory representatives may purchase or sell products that they may recommend to clients. WE LLC and its investment advisory representatives have a fiduciary duty to put the interests of their clients ahead of their own.

WE LLC requires that its investment advisory representatives follow its basic policies and ethical standards outlined in its Code of Ethics.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

WE LLC ("we"/"our") does not maintain custody of Client assets on which we advise. However, we may be deemed to have custody of Client assets if the Client gives us authority to withdraw assets from a Client's account (see Item 15—Custody, below). Client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank.

WE LLC recommends clients open accounts through Folio Investments Inc., a Goldman Sachs company ("Folio" or "Custodian") and Schwab Advisor Services™, Charles Schwab & Col, Inc. ("Schwab" or "Custodian"), registered broker-dealers, members SIPC, as qualified custodians. We are independently owned and operated and are not affiliated with Schwab or Folio. Client assets will be held with a Custodian in a brokerage account to buy and sell securities when instructed. A client will open an account with Schwab or Folio by entering into an account agreement directly with them. We do not open the account for the Client, although we may assist him or her in doing so.

We seek to recommend a custodian/broker that will hold Client assets and execute transactions on terms that are, overall, most advantageous when compared with other available providers and their services. We consider a wide range of factors, including:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for the Client's account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds [ETFs], etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist us in making investment decisions
- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
- Reputation, financial strength, security, and stability
- Prior service to us and our clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit us, as discussed below (see "Products and services available to us from Schwab")

Both Schwab and Folio provide institutional products and services that assist WE LLC in managing and administering clients' accounts, including software and other technology that (i) provides access to client account data (such as trade confirmations, account statements, and transaction-based historical data); (ii) facilitates trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts; (iii) provides research, pricing, and other market data; (iv) facilitates payment of WE LLC fees from its clients' accounts; and (v) assists with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting.

WE LLC receives a benefit because we do not have to produce or pay for the research, products, or services. As a result of these services provided, commissions may be higher than those charged by other broker-dealers. Soft dollar benefits are used to service all client accounts; they are not used exclusively for the accounts that generated the soft dollar benefits. There is no effort to allocate soft dollar benefits to clients in proportion to the amount of soft dollar benefits generated by each Client.

When consistent with the duty to obtain best execution, multiple client transactions will be aggregated into a single order to obtain the best price for clients. In such circumstances, the accounts will receive securities at a total average price. WE LLC will retain records of the trade order (specifying each participating account) and its allocation, which will be completed prior to the entry of the aggregated order. Completed orders will be allocated as specified in the initial trade order. Partially filled orders will be allocated on a pro-rata basis. Any exceptions will be explained in the order.

In certain circumstances, WE LLC will allow clients to select the broker-dealer to execute transactions. In this case, each Client selects a broker-dealer based on factors important to them. Clients will negotiate the terms and arrangements with their broker-dealer of choice, and transactions are directed to the specified broker-dealer. WE LLC will not be in a position to seek better execution services or prices from other broker-dealers. By directing brokerage, WE LLC may not be able to achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions, and this practice may cost clients more money.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

Securities in client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by Tiffany S. Kent, Managing Partner of WE LLC. Formal reviews are generally conducted at least quarterly. Reviews may be conducted more or less frequently at the Client's request. Accounts may be reviewed as a result of triggering events, such as major changes in economic conditions or material market, economic or political events, changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's account. The Client is encouraged to notify WE LLC if changes occur in the Client's personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client's investment plan.

The Client will receive brokerage statements no less than quarterly from Custodian. These brokerage statements are available electronically from the Custodian to the Client. The Client may also establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity. Client brokerage statements will include all positions, transactions, and fees relating to the Client's account[s]. In addition, the Client will receive other supporting reports from mutual funds, trust companies or other custodians, broker-dealers, and others who are involved with client accounts. WE LLC does not deliver separate client statements.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

As disclosed under Item 12 above, Advisor participates in Folio and Schwab's institutional customer program, and Advisor recommends Folio or Schwab to Clients for custody and brokerage services. There is no direct link between Advisor's participation in the program and the investment advice it gives to its Clients. However, Advisor receives economic benefits through its participation in the typically not available to Folio retail investors. These benefits include the following products and services (provided without cost or at a discount): receipt of duplicate client statements and confirmations; research related products and tools; consulting services; access to a trading desk serving Advisor participants; access to block trading (which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions for execution and then allocate the appropriate shares to client accounts); the ability to have advisory fees deducted directly from client accounts; access to an electronic communications network for client order entry and account information; access to mutual funds with no transaction fees and certain institutional money managers; and discounts on compliance, marketing, research, technology, and practice management products or services provided to Advisor by third-party vendors. These programs may also have paid for business consulting and professional services received by Advisor's related persons. Some of the products and services made available through the programs may benefit Advisor but may not benefit its client accounts. For example, these products or services may assist Advisor in managing and administering client accounts, including accounts not maintained at Folio or Schwab. Other services made available are intended to help Advisor manage and further develop its business enterprise. The benefits received by Advisor or its personnel through participation in the program do not depend on the amount of brokerage transactions directed to Folio or Schwab. As part of its fiduciary duties to clients, Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its clients first.

However, clients should be aware that the receipt of economic benefits by the Advisor or its related persons in and of itself creates a potential conflict of interest and may indirectly influence the Advisor's choice of Folio and Schwab for custody and brokerage services.

WE LLC does not directly or indirectly compensate any person who is not a supervised person for client referrals.

Item 15 Custody

WE LLC is deemed to have custody of your assets if you authorize us to instruct Folio or Schwab to deduct our advisory fees directly from your account or you grant us authority to move your money to another person's account. The Custodian maintains actual custody of your assets. However, as noted in Item 13 above, clients will receive statements not less than quarterly from the qualified Custodian, and we encourage Clients to review those statements carefully. Any discrepancies should be immediately brought to the Firm's attention.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

WE LLC will have discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client for each transaction. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by WE LLC.

The discretionary authority will only be provided upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of an Investment Advisory Agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by WE LLC will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

WE LLC will not vote nor advise clients how to vote, proxies for securities held in client accounts. The Client keeps the authority and responsibility for the voting of these proxies. Also, WE LLC cannot give any advice or take any action concerning voting these proxies. The Client and WE LLC agree to this by contract. Clients will receive proxy solicitations from their Custodian and transfer agent.

Item 18 Financial Information

WE LLC does not require or solicit prepayment of more than $500 in fees per Client, six months or more in advance, and is not required to file a balance sheet.

WE LLC has discretionary authority over client accounts and is not aware of any financial condition that will likely impair its ability to meet contractual commitments to clients. However, if WE LLC does become aware of any such financial condition, this brochure will be updated, and clients will be notified.

WE LLC has never been subject to a bankruptcy petition.
